

Points to Ponder at Life Group:

1. The Lord said in Exodus 3:14, "I will be who I will be." (See footnote in your Bible on that verse.) The Lord was telling us there that what comes in the book of Exodus is a revealing of who he is for us. Celebrate that for a moment. As you think back on all the stories about God in Exodus, what story sticks out to you? How does it speak to your life right now?
2. Study Psalm 103:7-12. What connections do you see between this passage and the message from Sunday? How do you see David taking Exodus 34 and expounding on it?
3. As you think about being God's forgiven child, what is the most urgent application to your heart? Is it caring about forgiveness, boldly believing you are forgiven or sharing that forgiveness with someone else? Share with the group!
